Election/Restriction

Status of Application: Claims and Amendments

1. Applicant is notified that the amendments put forth in Paper 15, 2/13/02, have been entered in full.
2. Claims 2-28 are pending.
3. Applicant's amendments have necessitated the issuance of a new restriction requirement. Consequently, Applicant's response to the previous Office Action will be held in abeyance pending Applicant's response to the instant restriction requirement.
4. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 2-12 and 15-18, drawn to a bacteriorhodopsin/GPCR chimera and methods of producing, classified in class 536, subclass 23.5.
 - II. Claims 13 and 14, drawn to methods of screening for molecules interacting with a GPCR, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
5. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the products of Group I can be used in materially and functionally different processes than that of Group II, such as in the production of antibodies, or as light-activated microsensors, or in gene therapy or other therapeutic methods.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: chimeric bacteriorhodopsin/ β 2-adrenergic receptors, chimeric bacteriorhodopsin/adenosine A1 receptors, bacteriorhodopsin/adrenocorticotrophic hormone receptors, bacteriorhodopsin/adenosine A1 receptors, bacteriorhodopsin/opsin receptors. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 2-14 are generic. Each, chimeric receptor protein species appears to represent a patentably distinct product, the use of one not being required for the use of any other. Further, although a search of any one of the species may overlap that of another, the search of one species could not be relied upon, solely, to provide art that is anticipatory or would render obvious the invention of any other species, and to search all species would be burdensome. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
